Shows coming to Singapore screens this August: Left Behind, Gentlemen at Bay Laurel Tailor's, The Get Down and more

Every month, we'll tell you about new television shows to hit terrestrial and cable channels, as well as streaming sites in Singapore! We'll also highlight shows that you've got to be home (or on your phone) to catch every month.

Overview of August shows

If you've been dying to see Fiona Xie back on Singapore TV, then you'll be pleased when "Left Behind" comes back in August. There are some quirky shows that are on this August, but otherwise it's a rather quiet month. It's the movie front that's really bustling this August though!

Left Behind (Channel 5, 22 August, Mondays 10.00 pm)

Fiona Xie in "Left Behind." (Mediacorp)

This is a one hour drama that deals with social issues affecting Singapore today. Gambling, elderly abuse, school bullying, cyber bullying,...all cases that come to the psychiatrist's files. Through the eyes of our main character and the people she comes into contact with, we experience stories about pain, love and resolution. Everyone thinks everyone else is perfect, but deep painful issues lie within each one of us. This is about people who have been "left behind". By their families, by society, sometimes even by themselves. But it is also a story of hope, knowing that once someone is given a chance, they can finally move forward. Starring Fiona Xie, Jason Godfrey, Oon Shu An and Aden Tan.

The dapper cast of "Gentlemen at Bay Laurel Tailor's." (Viu)

The drama centers around four tailors who through friendship and competition strive to establish their own tailoring empire. It stars Lee Dong Gun (Lovers in Paris), Jo Yeon Hee, Cha In Pyo, Ra Mi Ran (Reply 1988).

A tailoring empire? You got that right. Before the rise of automated tailoring services, we had real tailors (who are few and far between now), the kind that hipsters would call bespoke tailors. And this is their story. It'll also probably showcase the latest and trendiest in men's fashion, but it's ultimately going to be a tale of friendship and brotherhood. Plus, it'll be quite fun to see how sewing is going to be glamourised in this drama. But they're Korean. They'll find a way to make it look spectacular.
